Senator Earle is improving slowly and may recover.

Dr. Gwaltney's school will close on the 4th of June prox.

Mrs. Dr. Frank Butler has returned from a visit to Rock Hill.

Tues will be an eclipse of the sun, visible here on July 29th.

Rev. P. P. Blalock preached near Liberty Hill on last Sunday.

Miss Carrie Sheppard has returned home to spend the vacation.

Fox, Marsh & Co's opening on Thursday and Thursday evening.

Mrs. T. B. Lanham is spending this week with relatives in the country.

Gov. John Gary Evans is in town on a visit to his mother Mrs. Gen. Evans.

Judge Gary is at home for a few days, the court at Orangeburg having adjourned.

Mrs. Watts, mother of Gen. John Gary Watts, is on a visit to Mrs. Orlando Sheppard.

Col. Bob Watson, of Ridge Spring, has 200 acres in fruit trees, 200,000 trees altogether.

There is a constantly growing demand in this vale of tears that "other people should be good."

Mrs. Rebecca Jones will spend the summer in Spartanburg and Greenville with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Hassie Williams has returned to her home at Liberty Hill, having spent a month with Mrs. Ida Sheppard.

Mr. J. B. Peurifoy, a son of "Go Slow" Dan Peurifoy, is reading law with Col. Jas. H. Tillman, of our local bar.

FOR SALE OR RENT—The house and out recently occupied by Mrs. and Miss Fleming. Apply at the ADVERTISER'S office.

The cold nights are very bad on young cotton. Immediate chipping out is the best thing to be done under such untoward conditions.

From all accounts an epidemic of marriages is again about to visit Edgefield, in which railroad officers, merchants, farmers and lawyers are involved.

The new drug store, the dainty little drug store, the Fox, Marsh & Co. drug store keeps Harris' Lithia Water on draught. See what this water has done for friend Fox and follow suit.

WANTED FOR A CLIENT—Stock in the Farmers Bank. Market price paid for same. CROFT & TILLMAN, Edgefield, S. C.

If there are any farmers in Edgefield county who desire to experiment with the sugar beet, they can be supplied with seed upon application to Prof. Quick of Clemson College.

Married, on Tuesday, the 4th of May 1897, in Newberry county, at the residence of the bride's uncle, by Rev. M. E. Parish, Mr. J. Lucas Walker, of Johnston, and Miss Bessie Kowland.

Mr. Oscar Burnett, who lives one mile from town, has ten acres in cotton from which it is estimated he will gather twenty bales, and this prediction is made before the cotton has even been chopped out.

WANTED—A good man wanted to represent a first-class Insurance Company in Edgefield county. First-class contract to care right party. Address VIRGIL WALKER, Augusta, Ga.

We hear complaints that the grasshoppers are eating up the cotton in some sections, and that some have had to plant over at that account. This special grasshopper is a little black one without wings but a great hopper.

Senator Mayfield, of Barnwell county, has imported a pair of mule-footed pigs from Florida. They are said to be exempt from cholera and other diseases incident to swine; moreover, they are exceedingly swift of foot.

Mr. A. Horne, proprietor of the Ridge Spring Nurseries, was in town last week. Mr. Horne will do a big business this summer and fall. He handles none but tried varieties of fruits fully acclimated.

It is highly satisfactory to Edgefield people that in all their gettings they did not get Dan Ouzts in the dispensary stealings. It is highly probable also that Larry "blowed off his mouth" too early in the game. Dan came out of the matter, as one paper expresses it, "with not even the smell of fire on his garments."

The Sunday-schools of our town have concluded to have their picnic at Crouch's pond instead of Hatcher's; the date is next Friday, May 21st. All who attend are expected to bring baskets, and all who can do so are requested to send vehicles to the Methodist Church early in the morning of the day named.

Col. W. H. Folk, the silver-tongued orator of Edgefield, will address the Edgefield County Teachers' Institute to be held at Johnston, S. C., between the 21st and 25th days of June next, and we urge every man, woman and child in Edgefield to go and hear him, as it will be one of the best efforts of his life and will more than pay you for the time and trouble.

The case of Ninety-Six Township, in the matter of contesting the payment of the bonds issued in favor of the old Susong railroad, was argued before the United States Court in Richmond last week. This road was never built, but the bonds were voted and issued, and the probability is they will have to be paid—certainly a great hardship, but a lesson of experience, one that will not soon be forgotten.

"Red Hill" will appear in our next issue. The writer says he is "For Home Rule first, last and all the time," and in a crisp and caustic way hits with sledge-hammer blows some of the naughty Greenwood boys.

The recent election in Hibler Township, as to taking that territory into Greenwood county, went in favor of departure by a vote of 25 to 0 against, pretty unanimous. But so they leave us the public square—a place to fight and swap horses—old Edgefield will try to content herself in patience.

Dr. Geo. Wise, of Trenton, has gone to New York, for the purpose of having an operation performed for appendicitis. Mr. W. W. Adams, of our town, accompanied him. It is hoped that the operation may be successful and that Dr. Wise may be restored to health and strength again, for he has many friends.

History of Edgefield.

We clip the following from the Newberry Herald of last week: "Chapman's History of Edgefield is now printed. The last pages went through our presses this morning. The people of Edgefield and Saluda should show their appreciation of the labors of Mr. Chapman by buying out this edition at once. It is a good work and a book that every man in Edgefield should possess. Only a limited number have been printed, and if you hope to secure a copy you had better do so at once. It will be sold by subscription only and at $2.00 a copy. The book contains 528 pages. It will be ready for delivery in about ten days—just as soon as we can have the binding done."

Little Histories.

Messrs. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., and A. S. Tompkins, Esq., of Edgefield, have gotten out a little pamphlet entitled "The History of Co. K, 14th S. C. V." in honor of their late lamented father, Capt. D. C. Tompkins, and as a memorial of the individual members of the company who are dead, and a loving tribute to those who survive. A copy of this little brochure will be placed in the hands of every survivor of Co. K. In our humble judgment this is the way to write the history of the Confederate armies, not in heavy tomes, by learned disquisition, and glittering generalities, but by commencing at the fountain head and following the little streams to the bitter end. The company was the fountain head from which the armies sprang and the history of the company, the mother, the wife, the children cherish, for it is the history of father, son and husband.

Saluda's First Solicitor.

It has been the delight of the Saluda people to love and honor the name of Tillman for the last half a century. And when Col. James H. Tillman was appointed to act as solicitor for the first time at the first court held in Saluda county, all were glad to see Saluda's history reflecting so much honor on "Uncle" George Tillman. The establishing of Saluda county was one of the first policies of this statesman. Then to him belongs the fatherhood of Saluda county. We all bless the day Saluda's eldest brother, in the person of Col. James H. Tillman, stands as her counsel in her first attempt to mete out justice to her citizens. The able way in which Col. Tillman discharged his duties as solicitor adds another laurel to the already rich crown of honor the name of Tillman wears in Saluda. Tillman's county and at the first court ever held in it Tillman's son appears for the first time as the State's prosecuting attorney—Saluda Advocate.

The Magnetic Healer.

Prof. J. J. Nichols, the wonderful healer without medicine, has arrived. He is stopping with Mr. M. A. Taylor, where he may be consulted and where he will administer treatment. We have not space to print his testimonials, which are great tributes to his marvelous genius for working permanent cures. The Atlanta Constitution, out of a great number of other papers, says of him:

"The cures accomplished by Mr. Nichols are truly wonderful. The most painful and stubborn cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous diseases, insomnia, female diseases, etc., yield to the simple touch of his hand, and once they are driven from their victim they never return. People affected with these and many other diseases go limping into Mr. Nichols' office, often supported by friends, and come out in ten or fifteen minutes with a step as elastic as any young athlete. He has cured many of the worst cases of chronic diseases in the city. His patients have been among the most prominent men and women in the city, and they all bear witness to his wonderful power and rejoice in the possession of the health of their youth, that had been given us as forever gone. There is no humbuggery or fanaticism about Mr. Nichols. One of the most wonderful features of his power is the control he has of it. He can stand in front of a person ten feet away and thrill the whole body with magnetic force with a simple wave of the hand. Not only are Atlanta people going to Mr. Nichols for relief, but sufferers come to him from all over the South."

As Prof. Nichols will be here on a five day tour he urges all who desire to be treated to come and consult him as soon as possible, as time is one of the elements of success in his treatments—not a great deal of time, but several days at least, sometimes a week or two being necessary to effect a permanent cure.

Governor Ellerbe is thoroughly in earnest in his determination to have the strictest and most scrupulous honesty shown by every official who draws pay from the State treasury. He has clearly evinced this determination a number of times since he became the chief.

Talking Out Right.

MR. EDITOR: I merely wish, in a very few words, to endorse the call in your last issue over the signature of "Home Rule" in reference to the resignation of certain Greenwood gentlemen who are persistently swinging on to Edgefield offices. "Home Rule" is right, and how those Greenwood gentlemen, with a proper sense of propriety, can hesitate longer to vacate their Edgefield offices is to me an unsolved problem. Right and justice to the people of Edgefield demand that those Greenwood gentlemen with Edgefield offices in their pockets should step down and out with a double-quick movement. We all want and believe in Home Rule, and resident citizens of Edgefield, and they alone, should fill and control Edgefield offices of honor and trust, and none others should attempt or dare to usurp the rights of the people of Edgefield. Right is Right.

Is Judge Simonton Converted?

The Charleston correspondent of the Columbia Register says that Judge Simonton is evidently a thorough convert to the claims of the dispensary system as a moral institution—or at least to the moral features of the system taken by themselves. In his charge to the jury yesterday in the Beckroge case his Honor said:

"The great feature of the Dispensary law, the destruction of the saloons and the political influence of saloons, preventing drinking liquor in places where liquor is sold, requiring the liquor establishments to be kept open during certain hours, the destruction of the habit of treating and the protection cast around minors and habitual drunkards, these features will not be injured or protected by any verdict you may render. No political question enters this case at all."

"But in addition to these great features of the dispensary law, and I want to say here that if they were the questions involved, if our verdict would settle or unsettle those principles of the dispensary law, there is no court in the State who would be more prompt to declare that the provisions to which I have referred you are not only lawful, but the wisest exercise of the police powers of this State."

Such a tribute to Ben Tillman's system for regulating the liquor traffic, from Judge Simonton, is worthy of note.

Light on the Cash-Shannon Duel.

We are told by Col. W. M. Pickett, of Anson county, N. C., who is a lifelong friend and a distant relation by affinity of Col. E. B. C. Cash, that he heard the Colonel say that the sharpest sting in his bosom relative to the Shannon trouble was that he failed to recognize the salute that salute that Col. Shannon gave him as he came on the ground to settle the grievance. Here is Col. Cash's private declaration to me on several different occasions: "If I had only seen Col. Shannon salute me as he came on the ground I would not have fired a shot, but would have advanced and said: Gentlemen I am an expert as a pistol shot, which I know Col. Shannon is not, and seeing from his salute that he doesn't come on the ground with venom in his heart towards me, I now propose a settlement of the difficulty and a handshake, as I feel sure Col. Shannon would bite the dust if I shot."

Why take Johnson's Chill & Fever Tonic? Because it cures the most stubborn case of Fever in ONE DAY.

In the Buzzard-Henderson case the defense challenged the indictment, but it had been so carefully drawn that it stood the test, the Judge ruled in favor of the State without hearing any argument from the Solicitor at all. This indictment was drawn by Hon. J. Wm. Thurmond without any assistance or even a suggestion from any one. In drawing indictments where several persons are indicted together in such cases as this it requires a great deal of skill, and had this indictment been defective, and the Judge ruled against the State the whole case would have to have been done over again which would have cost the county $300, $400, or may be more than that cost as it is. So you can see the importance of having a Solicitor, like Thurmond, who knows his business. Indictments are often quashed because they are not properly drawn, but not when drawn by Thurmond.—Saluda Advocate.

Clemson is a heavy load to the taxpayers of the State. We have had something to say about Clemson before. How instead of the State granting a direct appropriation for its maintenance, is giving it all the privilege tax on fertilizers. With Clemson, at least, there is too much extravagance. We are told that when the legislature at its last sitting called for an itemized list of expenditures there was actually an entry of $2 for pulling a nigger's tooth—had to make some showing of what became of it in order that the appropriation might not be reduced. We really believe that the college could be run handsomely on half what it gets, and if it can, why the taxpayers need the balance.—Ex.

Trying to Save the Dispensary.

Columbia, S. C., May 15.—The Vandercook case is now occupying the entire attention of Attorney General Barber and Assistant Attorney General Townsend. They are both hard at work preparing their papers and arguments. They fully realize that if the case is lost it means a death blow to the state dispensary system. Hereabouts all regard this case as the crisis in the career of the dispensary and there are already rumors of an extra session of the general assembly being called immediately in the event of an adverse decision by Judge Simonton.

Governor Ellerbe has as yet had nothing to say along this line, but he is known to be watching the development of the Vandercook case with the keenest interest.

Home Folks in Washington.

Just before Congress assembled this morning a report was circulated at the Capitol to the effect that Senator Earle, of South Carolina, had died at his home in Greenville, from Bright's disease. Senator Tillman, and Representatives Latimer and McLaurin at once telegraphed to Greenville and received a denial of the rumor. It appears that Senator Earle's daughter, who was in Washington, received a telegram, stating that her father was very ill and requesting her to come home at once.

Senator Earle has made many friends during his brief career in the Senate, and Senators and Representatives of every political faith today expressed the deepest sympathy for him in his present illness. His courtly manner, his ability as a lawyer and his eloquence as a debator is fully recognized by his Senatorial associates, and he is destined to occupy a prominent place in the Senate should he recover. At a recent caucus of Democratic Senators he made a strong speech, in favor of reorganizing the Senate committee, and the steering committee has determined to resign him to two important committees, claims, and postoffice and postroads.—News Courier.

JOHNSON'S CHILL AND FEVER TONIC

Cures Fever In One Day.

An Open Letter.

Augusta Herald: I am a resident of Lincoln county, Ga., and have been in bad health for 20 years, spending thousands of dollars for medicines and doctor's bills, but about given up all hope, when some two weeks ago I received a message from J. D. Moss, who resides in Edgefield, to come down and try his Magnetic treatment. A friend of mine, who had been using up all the strength he could, I boarded the train for Augusta. When I reached the depot I was prostrated—though I would die on the road. After taking Prof. Nichols' treatment for ten days I feel so much improved that I feel fully justified in saying that I will with a few more treatments recover my health entirely. Prof. Nichols is a wonderful man and I take this means of telling all ladies suffering with any trouble that their family physician has failed to cure with medicines, to go and get cured at once by his wonderful treatment of magnetism. He has simply done more for me in ten days than all the physicians who have treated me in 20 years time.

Mr. J. D. Moss, her brother, who holds a prominent position with the large dry goods house of Landrum & Butler, will testify to the same.

Mrs. Dallis can be seen at Prof. Nichols' office at 610 Broad Street.

A convention of cripples has been called by the management of the St. Louis Exposition to meet in that institution the second week in September. The object is to ameliorate the condition of the maimed; and the convention will have three distinct features—the assembling of cripples, the meeting of surgeons, and the exhibit of artificial limbs. In order that the attendance may be large railroad and labor unions in general have been communicated with, and hundreds from points all over the United States have agreed to send delegates who have lost either an arm or a leg. Grand army Posts have also promised to interest themselves.

The entire business of the common pleas court was dispatched before noon. There was but one jury case, and that was the case of Geo. Johnson against the Southern Railway Co. B. L. Abney, Esq., of Columbia, appeared for the defense, and argued for a continuance on the grounds that a conductor, who was the most material witness, was out in California. Continuance was granted. A number of cases were continued, and in others different motions or orders were made. The court adjourned sine die in time to reach the evening train.—Saluda Sentinel.

Truth Stranger Than Fiction

PROF. J. J. NICHOLS, THE GREAT GEORGIA HEALER, — WILL BE AT — EDGEFIELD C. H., Monday, May 17, For 15 Days.

Cures When Others Fail—Disease Vanishes at His Touch—A Marvelous Man.

The cures which are daily being performed by Prof. James Nichols, the magnetic man, or whatever strange sort of being he may be called, almost stagger credulity. That he does impart a wonderful current of vitality, that he cures pains and heals diseases, there is no longer room for doubt. Hundreds testify to his almost miraculous cures. Under his touch, the lame walk, the deaf hear, the blind see, disease vanishes and the despondent are filled with hope.

WHAT OTHERS SAY. From hundreds of certificates voluntarily given to Prof. Nichols, which may be seen at his office, testifying to all manner of cures, we find space for the following:

VERTIGO AND PARALYSIS CURED.

"About three years ago, I had several severe attacks of vertigo or partial paralysis, as termed by the attending physician. After a confinement of several weeks to my bed, I at last gained sufficient strength to attend to my business, but was still troubled with a swimming or dizziness of the head and occasionally headache, particularly when exposed to the hot sun. To be relieved of this dizziness and occasional headache, I concluded about a month ago to try Dr. Nichols' magic treatment. I now take pleasure in saying that after the first or second treatment I have not had the semblance of a headache, and the dizzy sensation has entirely disappeared. Therefore, I cheerfully recommend this doctor's treatment to suffering humanity for all diseases of debility, or when the nervous system has been in the least impaired, believing that magnetism is a powerful agent when one possesses it, as does this doctor, to build up and return the patient to health without the use of medicine."

four treatments for my eyes for near-sightedness from Dr. J. J. Nichols, and I find that my treatments have done me much good. I have been wearing glasses for five years, and I find that I can go without them entirely. HETTIE MARSHALL.

ATLANTA, Oct. 10th, 1896.

Prof. J. J. Nichols—Dear Sir: I cannot say enough for your treatment. For five years my daughter Hettie wore glasses for nearsightedness, and am now happy to state that after four treatments my daughter could see without the aid of glasses and is now thoroughly cured. Respectfully MRS. B. MARSHALL.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 6th, 1896.

Prof. J. J. Nichols—Dear Sir: I have been deaf for 27 years, during which time I could not hear even the sound of an organ in church. I have been treated by several eminent physicians, oculists and aurists, with no benefit whatever, but since being treated by Prof. J. J. Nichols have been greatly benefited, and can hear steps around me, while out walking, and can also enjoy preaching and music while in the church. MISS LEA HARRISON.
